FROM THE PRESIDENT

16 December 2019

Dear alumnus,

2019 has been a busy and fulfilling year for NUS. While we continue to strive as a leading global university to shape the future, it is an opportune time to reflect and appreciate the efforts of our talented community.

We have made significant headway in innovating a lifelong learning education model that provides a seamless experience from undergraduate to graduate education, as well as executive and professional courses. We have also strengthened our research leadership and impact by recruiting top academic and research talent, engaging in research translation, and forging new collaborations with partners around the world. At the same time, the University has grown our Innovation and Enterprise network, particularly in Southeast Asia, and we have collectively worked at being more efficient and professional in our administrative functions and processes.

My reflections on our highlights and continual efforts to improve in 2019 can be read by clicking on the image below:

We have made great progress this year, and I thank you for your part in helping to educate, inspire and transform this University and the communities we serve. I am pleased to announce that 31 December 2019 will be a university holiday for all faculty, staff, and students.

I wish you and your loved ones a joyful holiday season and a blessed new year.

With best wishes,

Professor Tan Eng Chye (Science '85)
NUS President
