

Frequently Asked Questions

1. How can I post my IAAS opportunities on NUS TalentConnect?

NUS Internship-As-A-Service (IAAS) internships will be available on NUS TalentConnect starting from 30th September 2026. To create an IAAS posting:

- i. Under the job details section, select 'Internship' as the Employment Type.
- ii. Go to the 'Internship details' tab and select 'Centre for Future-ready Graduates' as the Internship Programme Host.
- iii. Under 'Internship Programme', select 'Internship-As-A-Service'.

2. What types of internships are supported under the 'Internship-As-A-Service' Internship Programme on NUS TalentConnect?

"Internship-As-A-Service" on NUS TalentConnect now supports part-time and full-time IAAS internships, offering flexible opportunities with local and overseas employers.

Part-time IAAS internships can take place year-round and are capped at 16 working hours per week during semester periods.

Full-time IAAS internships are strictly limited to vacation periods.

3. Can I post a part-time IAAS internship that takes place during vacation-periods?

Yes, part-time IAAS internships can take place during vacation periods, provided that the working hours are under 35 hours per week.

4. What are the changes in IAAS requirements?

Under the revised requirements, IAAS internships undertaken during semester periods are capped at 16 working hours per week. During vacation periods, students may undertake IAAS internships on either a full-time or part-time basis.

Please note that students may only participate in one IAAS internship per academic year.

5. Which student levels are eligible for part-time IAAS internships?

Part-time NUS IAAS internships are open to third- and fourth-year undergraduates and postgraduate students from all faculties.

During semester periods, IAAS internships are capped at 16 working hours per week. During vacation periods, part-time IAAS internships must be under 35 working hours per week.

6. Which student levels are eligible for full-time IAAS internships?

Full-time NUS IAAS internships are open to only undergraduates in their third and fourth years, and MSc by Coursework students.

7. Will Internship Support Letters be issued for IAAS internships?

Yes. Internship support letters will only be issued to internships with application, offer, and offer acceptance completed via the NUS TalentConnect platform. The letter will be issued to both you and the student after the student's placement form has been approved.

8. Who can I contact should I have additional enquiries?

For further assistance or enquiries, you may contact your Industry Relations (IR) manager.
