

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Where can I find NUS IAAS internships on NUS TalentConnect?

NUS Internship-As-A-Service (IAAS) internships will be available on NUS TalentConnect starting from 30th September 2026. To view all available NUS IAAS internships, filter by 'Internship Programme' on the left sidebar and select 'Internship-As-A-Service'.

2. What types of internships are supported under the 'Internship-As-A-Service' Internship Programme on NUS TalentConnect?

"Internship-As-A-Service" on NUS TalentConnect now supports part-time and full-time IAAS internships, offering flexible opportunities with local and overseas employers.

Part-time IAAS internships can take place year-round and are capped at 16 working hours per week during semester periods. Full-time IAAS internships are strictly limited to vacation periods.

3. What are the new IAAS requirements?

NUS IAAS internships offered through NUS TalentConnect are non-credit-bearing, with no units awarded and no course enrolment.

You may only participate in one IAAS internship per academic year.

4. Who can apply for NUS IAAS part-time internships?

Part-time NUS IAAS internships are open to undergraduates in their third and fourth years, and postgraduate students from all faculties.

Graduate Research (GDR) students are to contact their respective faculties for more information.

5. Who can apply for NUS IAAS full-time internships?

Full-time NUS IAAS internships are open to only undergraduates in their third and fourth years, and MSc by Coursework students.

Graduate Research (GDR) students are not eligible for full-time internships. Please contact your respective faculties for more information.

6. Can I take up part-time IAAS internships during vacation periods?

Yes. Part-time IAAS internships are allowed during vacation periods, provided that the working hours are under 35 hours per week.

Graduate Research (GDR) students are to contact their respective faculties for more information.

7. How can I get my internship support letter for IAAS internships?

Internship support letters will only be issued to internships with application, offer, and offer acceptance completed via the NUS TalentConnect platform. The letter will be issued after your placement form has been approved.

8. How can I log in to NUS TalentConnect?

As all NUS students are already registered with NUS TalentConnect, you can sign in with your NUS-ID, e.g., UserID@u.nus.edu or UserID.

9. Who can I contact should I have additional enquiries?
