 Programme Dates: 10 July to 12 August 2023
 Application Deadline: As soon as possible

ESTIMATED COST OF PARTICIPATION
1	Programme Fee	Estimated SGD300. To check exact price with coordinator. Contact is available at the end of the document.
2	Financial Aid Available Through NUS GRO	Financial Aid options will not be available for programmes/classes that are conducted fully online. If programmes are hybrid, only on-site participation would qualify a student for financial aid. If a physical/on-site programme switches to fully online before the commencement of the programme, NUS reserves the right to adjust or retract the financial aid package. Eligible students will receive the NUS Southeast Asia Experience Award (SEA) which can be applied through EduRec. This will serve to provide financial support for students participating in Southeast Asian-related online programmes. More information about the SEA can be found on the GRO website .

PROGRAMME DETAILS
3	Content	This is a collaborative initiative between SAPPK ITB and the University of Melbourne’s Melbourne School of Design . The program highlights common issues and cases using placemaking approaches. Participants will conduct a social experiment in Semarang by mapping housing areas, and a case study will be analyzed to propose community engagement strategies based on placemaking concepts . This program will include online lecture sessions, a field trip and social experiment, a design studio session, and a design charrette at the Architecture Department at ITB Bandung. Participants within a group must complete a design report on the Placemaking and Social Experiment project and present it to the appointed reviewers or stakeholders before the conclusion of the activity.

		This program is being funded through the “Chancellery International Global Classrooms Seed Grants 2022” at the University of Melbourne supporting the internationalizing of the curriculum, which highlights how the use of technology and in collaboration with international partners, will help enhance student learning and access to unique global experiences.
