

Transforming University Libraries Leadership & Innovation Programme

Blooming Knowledge, Seeding Leadership, Growing Communities

Rigorous learning environment that equips librarians, academics and information professionals in Southeast Asia and beyond with the skills, insights, and evidence-based practice to advance transformation.

Advances professional development by nurturing changemakers in academic libraries with the leadership competencies and strategic perspectives needed to drive innovative initiatives in their home institutions.

Diverse global network that fosters a collaborative professional community, advancing library partnerships, knowledge exchange and collective impact across institutions and borders.

Key Programme Highlights

| Day 1 | Day 2 | Day 3 | Day 4 | Day 5 |
|--|---|---|--|--|
| Leading transformational change for libraries in today's information landscape | AI, digital transformation and innovation in a leading academic library | Library partnerships and success stories for education and research | Library as a living lab: collections, infrastructure and placemaking | Problem solving, transformational learning and overcoming barriers to change through real-world case studies |

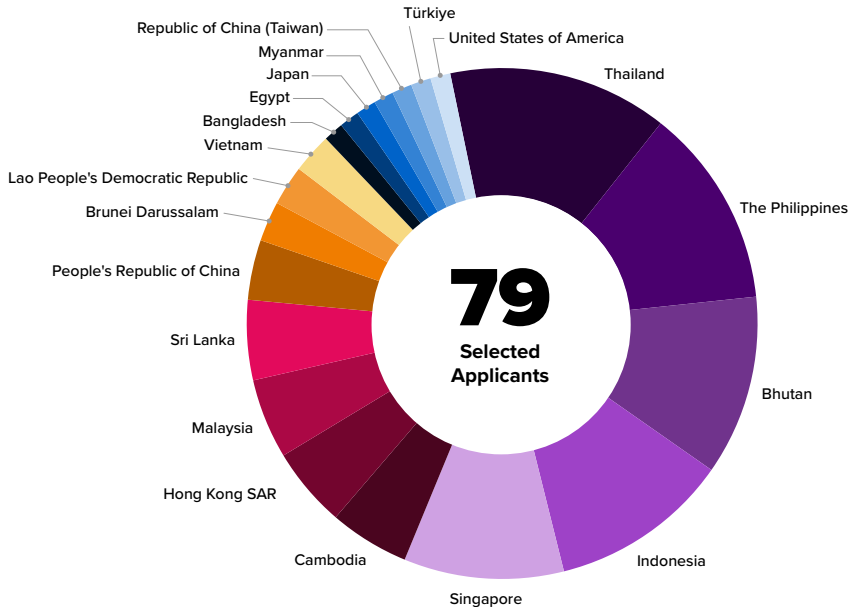

TULLIP In Numbers

Since inaugural intake in January 2025

*Numbers as of January 2026

Participant Demographics

Watch TULLIP in Action
nus.edu/tullipvideo

Programme Leadership

A/P Natalie Pang

*University Librarian
& Head of Communications and New Media*

Dr Magdeline Ng

Vice University Librarian

Mr Patrick Pu

Cluster Head of Access Platforms & Resource Management

Ms Raven Sim

*Principal Librarian
(Resource Acquisitions)*

Mr Richard Ho

*Principal Librarian
(Scholarly Communications)*

Blooming in Action

TULLIP Partners & Sponsors

TULLIP was made possible through the generous support and contributions of the partners below, who supported more than 50 fellows since 2025

Oei Tiong Ham Transforming University Libraries Endowment Fund

THE ELSEVIER FOUNDATION

Mr Pote Narittakurn Lee

WILEY

Taylor & Francis Group
an informa business

Sage

For more information on the programme, visit nus.edu/tullip or scan the QR code below.

