COVID-19: HOSTEL VACCINATION POLICY FOR AY2022/2023

The hostel is a closely-knit community with frequent close interactions among the residents. To provide a safe and rich hostel environment, NUS will be adopting a 100% COVID-19 vaccination policy for hostels with effect from AY2022/2023. From Semester 1, COVID-19 vaccination will be a requirement for residency on campus.

Full vaccination status requires that a person is up-to-date on the primary course and any booster jabs prescribed under the prevailing government guidelines.

New and returning students who have been offered a place in a hostel will need to show proof of being fully vaccinated, or that they have been certified medically ineligible by a Singapore doctor, in order to be eligible to check-in to the hostel.

This policy will also apply to residential staff and families residing on campus.

More information on the verification process for students will be provided in due course.

If you have further questions, please check with your hostel, or email OSA at reslife@nus.edu.sg.
